EV27HS,
1951

I have known you for quite some time, but this is the first year that I have had you as my teacher. I really have enjoyed it.

your student and friend,
Emmett Jenkins

to the nicest
and best teacher this brain factory has ever had.
Yours truly

Dedication

To the one who worked with us so faithfully through our high school years to make them happy ones, we sincerely dedicate the 1951 edition of the "Beacon" to Miss Virginia Ruth Crouch, one who is esteemed and respected by students, co-workers, and the community.

Recognition

In recognition of one who has given her time and patience and who has worked so faithfully in helping to make this school better, our deepest thoughts and appreciation go to Miss Sue Mann, our high school supervisor.

Class Will

We the Senior Class of 1951, being of sound body and mind, are about to leave this mortuary of brains behind to start a new life, one of living.

We hereby leave the following to lower classmen:

Bobbie Coulson wills her figure to Shirley Mae Wylie, in hopes that it will bring her more luck than she has had lately.

Betty Dunkin wills her ability to live through Texas History class to Zonita Easter, with the following epitaph, "In memory of those who have died waiting for the bell to ring."

Iva Marie Gifford wills her ability to get to school at 7:10 every morning to Geneva Owen, with this thought, "The early bird catches the worm." She also wills her temper to Harry Jean Duke, with this thought, "Sometimes it helps."

Emmett Jenkins wills the keys to the cold drink machines to Corky Arnold, and his ability to get away with any and everything to Joe Currie Bean.

Bill Stevenson wills his back seat in study hall to Eugene Carroll, and his temper to Orien Knight.

Joyce Walker wills her hard head and drooping lower lip to Margie Vaden, with this thought, "Sometimes it works."

In closing Bobbie Coulson leaves her job in the office to Shirley Dawn Wall because of her good nature.

The 1950-51 Everman cage season was considered opened September 14, 1951. For two months the squad concerned themselves with conditioning, fundamentals, and the basic ideas of basketball.

The squad started slowly, due to inexperienced personnel, and adoption of a new system of offensive patterns. Burleson, one of the state's more powerful clubs, was the opening opponent, and although the Bulldogs proved no match for the hardwood-wise Red and Black they learned and profited greatly by the experience of the game.

As the season went on the squad rounded into better form. Close co-operation was produced and the team began to attain the heights of which they are capable.

When conference play was finally opened the squad accredited themselves with a 5 won and 3 lost record, and a fourth place standing in the nine team conference. Highlights of the season were the 60-24 win over Kennedale, and the 33-29 upset of the unbeaten Azle.

In the conference tournament the Bulldogs were outmaned by a larger, man experienced Grapevine squad.

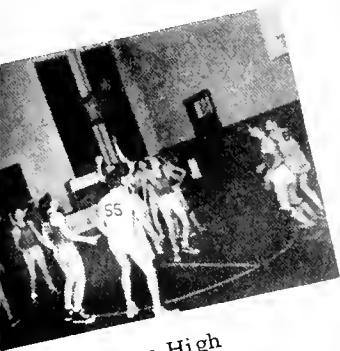

The future looks promising with only one graduating senior, and seven returning lettermen due back on the Bulldog campus in 1951-52. With these prospects it is hoped that next year's squad will better the five won and the eight lost record of this year's young, inexperienced, but never say die, ball club.

THE GREAT AMERICAN

Habit

Flipping switches is The Great American Habit. Even children have it. And it's a habit that has given America the world's highest standard of living.

In the home, electricity is just about the smallest item in the budget, but what else makes life so easy, so healthy so comfortable?

In industry, electricity lends the employee the strength of giants. Electric motors multiply his muscular strength by dozens or even by thousands — making it possible for him to produce more, better, faster — to earn more.

There are still broad fields of electric living yet to be tapped. Business men can do the job better than bureaucrats. That's always been the secret of America's progress.
